Designer

Patrick Norguet

2013

French designer Patrick Norguet, close to fashion world through his collaboration with Louis Vuitton, Lanvin, Guerlain, Christian Dior, is involved in industrial and interior design, dedicating himself to create also exhibitions for Van Cleef and Renault. He belongs to that generation which is making known the "french touch" on the international stage; with his designs he perfectly interprets Cappellini's theory of the union between fashion and design, projecting items of great presence for both sectors, working for innovation but keeping the greatest simplicity.
