

A' mare

Jacopo Foggini

General description:

A collection composed of chair, armchair, bench, sun lounger, coffee table and tables realized with pure polycarbonate sticks made by hand. The name is A'mare, a play on words that expresses the love for designing together with the idea of solidifying water into precious objects. Sea and water, with their stunning reflections, become the protagonists of the living space through these furniture pieces that are welcoming landscapes of relaxation and comfort.

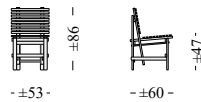

A'mare collection meets all the values of universality of use of the Edra collection. Created to last over time, A'mare fits easily into interior spaces, given the purity of its aesthetics.

Technical description:

A collection consisting of chair, armchair, bench, sun lounger, coffee table and tables. Handmade with polycarbonate sticks, deliberately irregular to obtain heterogeneous surfaces, that can be perceived only by touch. The various sticks are joined following a very elementary structure, with the help of special screws. The tables are completed with 12 mm thick glass tops.
