Description

Dining table with folded steel base. The top is :

- in matt varnished solid European walnut blockboard or solid natural oak, thickness 40 mm, with streamlined edges. For the two largest sizes (240 x 98 & 260 x 108) the tops are made up of wooden planks, some of which may be joined together lengthways.

- or in ceramic stoneware (6 mm thick). The visual finesse of which contrasts with the robustness of the base, is glued onto a generous steel structure which incorporates a plate to which the legs are fixed. This structure is barely visible since it is set back 12 cm in comparison to the top. Two elegant aluminium profiles, lacquered to match the base, link the legs along the entire length of the top.

- or in smoked oak-effect through-stained wood veneered MDF (12 mm thick) on a black lacquered base.

The top is glued onto a structure which incorporates a plate to which the legs are fixed. This structure is barely visible since it is set back 12 cm in comparison to the top. Two elegant black lacquered aluminium profiles link the legs along the entire length of the top.
